- Catholic Schools NSW
- National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Catholic Council
- National Catholic Education Commission
- State and Federal Education Ministers

Since 1995, CCSP has been the voice of Catholic school parents in decision-making within and beyond the NSW Catholic education sector.

In 1992 Catholic school parents accepted a brief from the Conference of Bishops to establish a parent Organisation that would represent all parents of children in Catholic schools in NSW. This body, called the Council of Catholic School Parents [CCSP], had its inaugural meeting in 1995, was incorporated and listed in the 'Official Directory of the Catholic Church' in 1997 and had its interim Constitution given final ratification at a meeting of the Conference of Bishops on 9th November 2000. The CCSP is incorporated as an entity under the Roman Catholic Church Communities' Lands Act 1942.

The principle purpose of the Council is to provide leadership, advocacy and support to all parents of students in Catholic schools in the Province of Sydney and Archdiocese of Canberra and Goulbourn and represent their interests at state and national level. Other purposes of the CCSP are:

- to affirm the obligation and rights of parents to ensure a Catholic education for their children;
- to promote Catholic education in Catholic schools in partnership and through collaboration with the Diocesan Bishops and Catholic Education agencies and other organisations in the province;
- to provide a state level forum for participation, in all aspects of Catholic education of parents of students in catholic schools in the province;
- to promote and foster the facilitation of the links between family, school, Church and the community;
- to collaborate with Diocesan Bishops, their Catholic education agencies and Catholic schools to promote and foster the development of parent organisations so as to strengthen the participation of all parents in Catholic schools in the province;

- to collaborate with and provide services to dioceses and principal and teacher associations
- to work collaboratively with all education authorities, both government and non-government, principal and teacher associations and other parent organisations

CCSP funds are provided from each diocese and Congregational schools paying a levy (reviewed annually) per student along with CSNSW support and government grants. The salary of the members of the Secretariat and the Executive Director are paid from these funds. The CCSP also receives funding from CSNSW and the NSW Government.

The Council meets four times a year – once per term – including one combined meeting which all Council and Committee members attend, and hosts a conference for parents and teachers every two years. The event attracts world-class speakers and lead researchers in their fields to discuss current issues affecting children and teenagers. The Council is supported by the Secretariat team, which currently includes an Executive Director, Executive Officer and Administration Officer, who manage administration, finance, meetings and communication for the Chair and representatives.

Subcommittees/working parties made up of Council and/or Committee members have input into projects and resource creation during the year to assist in achieving the Council's strategic plan goals and operational work plan.

The Council also provides an annual grant – the Roger O'Sullivan Award – to a school for a community engagement project, and provides an annual teacher scholarship to a student studying to be a teacher at ACU.

From funding through to policy and curriculum development CCSP represents the interests of Catholic school parents across all areas of education that affect Catholic school families and children. We represent Catholic school parents at government level, industry level and in the media.

Our Membership

Membership of the Council comprises parent representatives from the eleven NSW/ACT dioceses, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Committee and Catholic Congregational Schools representing parents in over 600 Catholic schools.

A diocesan parent organisation is the membership body for all systemic Catholic schools within a particular diocese. Catholic systemic schools therefore affiliate to the Council through their diocesan organisation.

Where a parent organisation does not exist, the Catholic schools in the diocese are represented by a parent nominated by the Diocesan Education Office. Congregational schools affiliate directly to the Council.

Our Leadership Framework

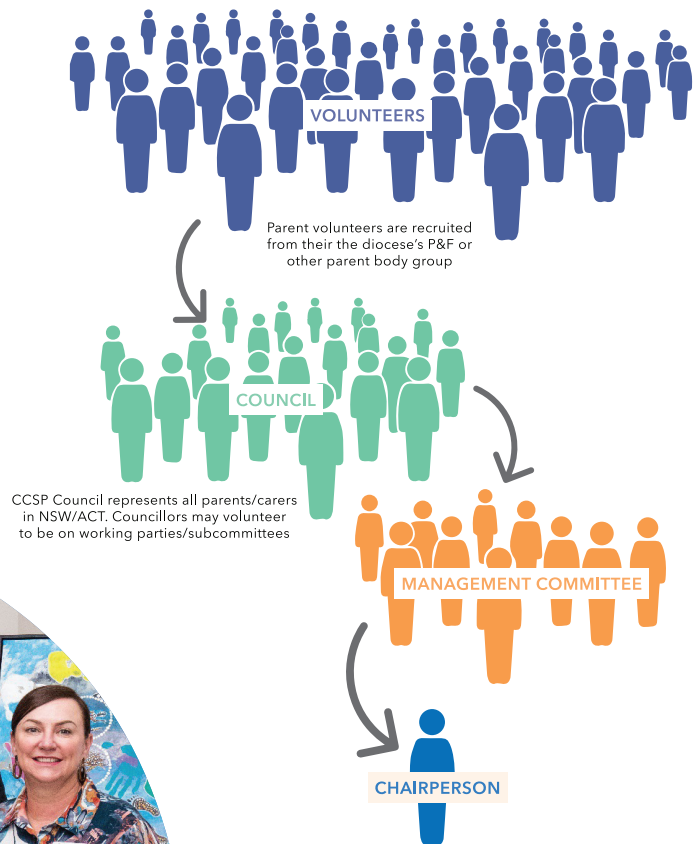

Normally, a parent volunteer joins the CCSP as a Council member elected or nominated through their diocesan processes. They may spend the whole of their time with the CCSP as a Council member or they may wish to deepen their involvement by taking on a position on the Management Committee.

A position on the Management Committee of the CCSP is a very important role that assists in providing leadership, inspiration and direction to the Council as a whole.

Particular individuals will then progress to the role of Chairperson for a specified period. A member must have been on the Council for a period of at least 12 months before being able to be elected as Chair.

The Leadership Framework helps members understand and execute their role as members of the Council and Management Committee.

Key Concepts

- Parent engagement
- Parent involvement
- Family-school partnerships

Learning is a partnership with parents, carers and others in the community, all of whom have a role to play in nurturing the love of learning needed for success at school and in life.

- Alice Springs (Mparntwe) Education Declaration (December 2019)

Catholic Schools in NSW and the ACT work in partnership with parents and their school communities to promote a shared responsibility for the education of each child:

- Parents are recognised as the first educators when it comes to their child's faith formation, learning and wellbeing
- In turn, parents contribute by valuing the Catholic identity and mission of schools
- Schools and parents partner to ensure that all students in our schools are supported in their social, spiritual and emotional development

The research is clear on the matter of parental involvement and parent engagement in education: there are profound and comprehensive benefits for students, families and schools when parents and communities become participants in their children's education and lives.

Parent involvement encompasses the more common, day-to-day activities that parents do to support their child's learning, while parent engagement involves a deeper and more collaborative partnership between parents and schools to shape the overall educational experience. Both are valuable and can complement each other to create a supportive and enriching environment for children.

Family-school partnerships are collaborative relationships and activities involving school staff, parents and other family members of students at that school. Effective partnerships are based on mutual trust and respect, and shared responsibility for the education of the children and young people at the school.

As the state body for parents and carers of children in Catholic school, CCSP supports dioceses and schools to encourage parent engagement.
